

Material study — no cable

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                                                            |                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                         |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| <math>S_{\text{wale}}</math> <math>S_{\text{course}}</math> <math>\theta_{\text{knit}} \text{ (}^\circ\text{)}</math> <math>p \text{ (Pa)}</math> <math>E_1 \text{ (N/m)}</math> <math>r = E_1/E_2</math> <math>\nu_{12}</math> | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.55}</math> <math>S_I=0.51</math> | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.61}</math> <math>S_I=0.39</math> <math>w. E_1 \text{ (N/m)}</math> | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.63}</math> <math>S_I=0.41</math> <math>w. E_1 \text{ (N/m)}</math> | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.67}</math> <math>S_I=0.45</math> <math>w. E_1 \text{ (N/m)}</math> |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.12}</math> <math>S_I=0.07</math> | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.08}</math> <math>S_I=0.04</math>                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.08}</math> <math>S_I=0.04</math>                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.04}</math> <math>S_I=0.02</math>                                              |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.00}</math> <math>S_I=0.00</math> | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.00}</math> <math>S_I=0.00</math>                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.00}</math> <math>S_I=0.00</math>                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.00}</math> <math>S_I=0.00</math>                                              |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.11}</math> <math>S_I=0.10</math> | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.03}</math> <math>S_I=0.02</math>                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.02}</math> <math>S_I=0.01</math>                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.01}</math> <math>S_I=0.00</math>                                              |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.20}</math> <math>S_I=0.18</math> | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.28}</math> <math>S_I=0.13</math>                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.27}</math> <math>S_I=0.13</math>                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.27}</math> <math>S_I=0.13</math>                                              |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.00}</math> <math>S_I=0.00</math> | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.00}</math> <math>S_I=0.00</math>                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.00}</math> <math>S_I=0.00</math>                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.00}</math> <math>S_I=0.00</math>                                              |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.09}</math> <math>S_I=0.08</math> | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.29}</math> <math>S_I=0.13</math>                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.28}</math> <math>S_I=0.13</math>                                              | <math>S_T=\mathbf{0.29}</math> <math>S_I=0.13</math>                                              |
| <math>h_{\text{crown}} \text{ (m)}</math> <math>\sigma_{\text{max}} \text{ (N/m)}</math> <math>\bar{\sigma} \text{ (N/m)}</math> <math>\bar{R}_{\text{bdry}} \text{ (N)}</math>                                                                                  |                                                                            |                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                         |